

30-HOUR EXPLORING THE GITA COURSE

Hi! Thank you for considering this 30-hour continuing education course on the ancient text, the Bhagavad Gita. Please note this course will explore topics of a metaphysical, philosophical, and theistic nature. Furthermore, it cannot be taught without diving into concepts and words that try to explain the nature of God. It is not the intent of this studio or the instructors to influence anyone's belief systems, political views, or suggest any sort of way any participant needs to live their life. Nonetheless, the course is a chance to explore not only a different perspective from another culture, but also a chance to explore ourselves. This understandably can be uncomfortable, so please consider before signing up for this course, that it can present new concepts that may challenge opinions or beliefs you may currently have. There is no requirement or force on behalf of this studio and its instructors to believe in those concepts.

All participants will be required to participate in the sessions. We can make some accommodations if there are some scheduling conflicts to maybe offer a livestream participation or recording of the session, however the medium of Zoom does not allow us to properly translate all of the practices and experience of this course. Furthermore, participating in person for the majority of the sessions will be one of our requirements.

Details:

Commitment Deadline: Application must be submitted by January 16th, 2023.

Meetings: Friday 8-10pm on 1/27, 2/10, 2/17, 2/24, 3/10, 3/17, 3/24, 4/21, 4/28, & Sunday 4/30 12-2pm. Please arrive before the start time of the sessions.

Compilation of CE Hours: 20 in person hours consisting of reading the Gita, discussion, sharing, and some sort of practice (ie: meditation or chant) 10 Personal Hours consisting of reading another translation/commentary of the Gita that we aren't in person, reading the course manual, and maybe your own personal practice or attending studio kirtans. If course criteria has been fulfilled, a certificate of completion for your 30 CE hours will be given on the last meeting day.

Course Materials to Purchase: Purchase the Bhagavad Gita: Talks Between the Soul and God. by. Ranchor Prime (it's available on amazon) + another translation/commentary of the Gita of your choice. Also recommended is a journal and Pencil.

Price: $500 (Due by January 20th, 2023) – Included with your participation are 10 Postural Yoga Classes you may use while enrolled in the course. They will expire at the conclusion of the course. Those already enrolled in 200 Hour training at Good Vibes Yoga or are an alumnus of our 200-hour program may apply 30% off the program price ($350.) Every participant is emailed a course manual once payment is complete.
